MICKEY ROSENBERG

Mickey,
You were really a great president this year. It would've been impossible, though, without the wonderful council behind you.
I'll see you at T.U. next year.
Maybe this summer.
Good luck this summer.
Mike Slone '63"

Mickey,
You're a nice person.
I'm a little old sophomore like me)
I sure am going to miss you next year.
I hope you come back and visit us next year.
Love,

MR. GLEN LAKE

The SCOTTONIAN Honors Glen Lake

Mr. Glen Lake is an extraordinary industrial arts teacher. He looks at woodworking as a road along which he can lead his boys toward good habits of life — pride in the quality of their work, carefulness, precision. This philosophy of teaching is embodied in Mr. Lake's great interest in people. Such an interest in his students creates a feeling of good will in his classes, and when Scott industrial arts graduates return for a visit, they remember Mr. Lake and ask about him.

After attending Western State Teachers' College in Michigan, Mr. Lake later graduated from the University of Toledo a bachelor of arts in education. He came to the Scott Industrial Arts Department in 1923, after having taught a year in Indiana, a year in Michigan, and four years in the Toledo elementary schools. He began his service as Industrial Arts Department chairman in 1947.

In many ways in addition to his teaching program, Mr. Lake has served Scott well. He became golf coach in 1927. For many years he was a member of the Faculty Committee of Athletic Control. He has directed magazine sales drives, assisted numerous committees for football banquets and faculty activities, and produced many special assemblies, which tapped another facet of his versatility, his popularity as a public speaker. Each spring, Mr. Lake supervised his craftsmen in the repairing of the stadium.

Through the various phases of his service to our school, Mr. Lake has proved to be an ideal "Mr. Scott." To him we dedicate the 1962 SCOTTONIAN.

To Mickey,
A wonderful guy

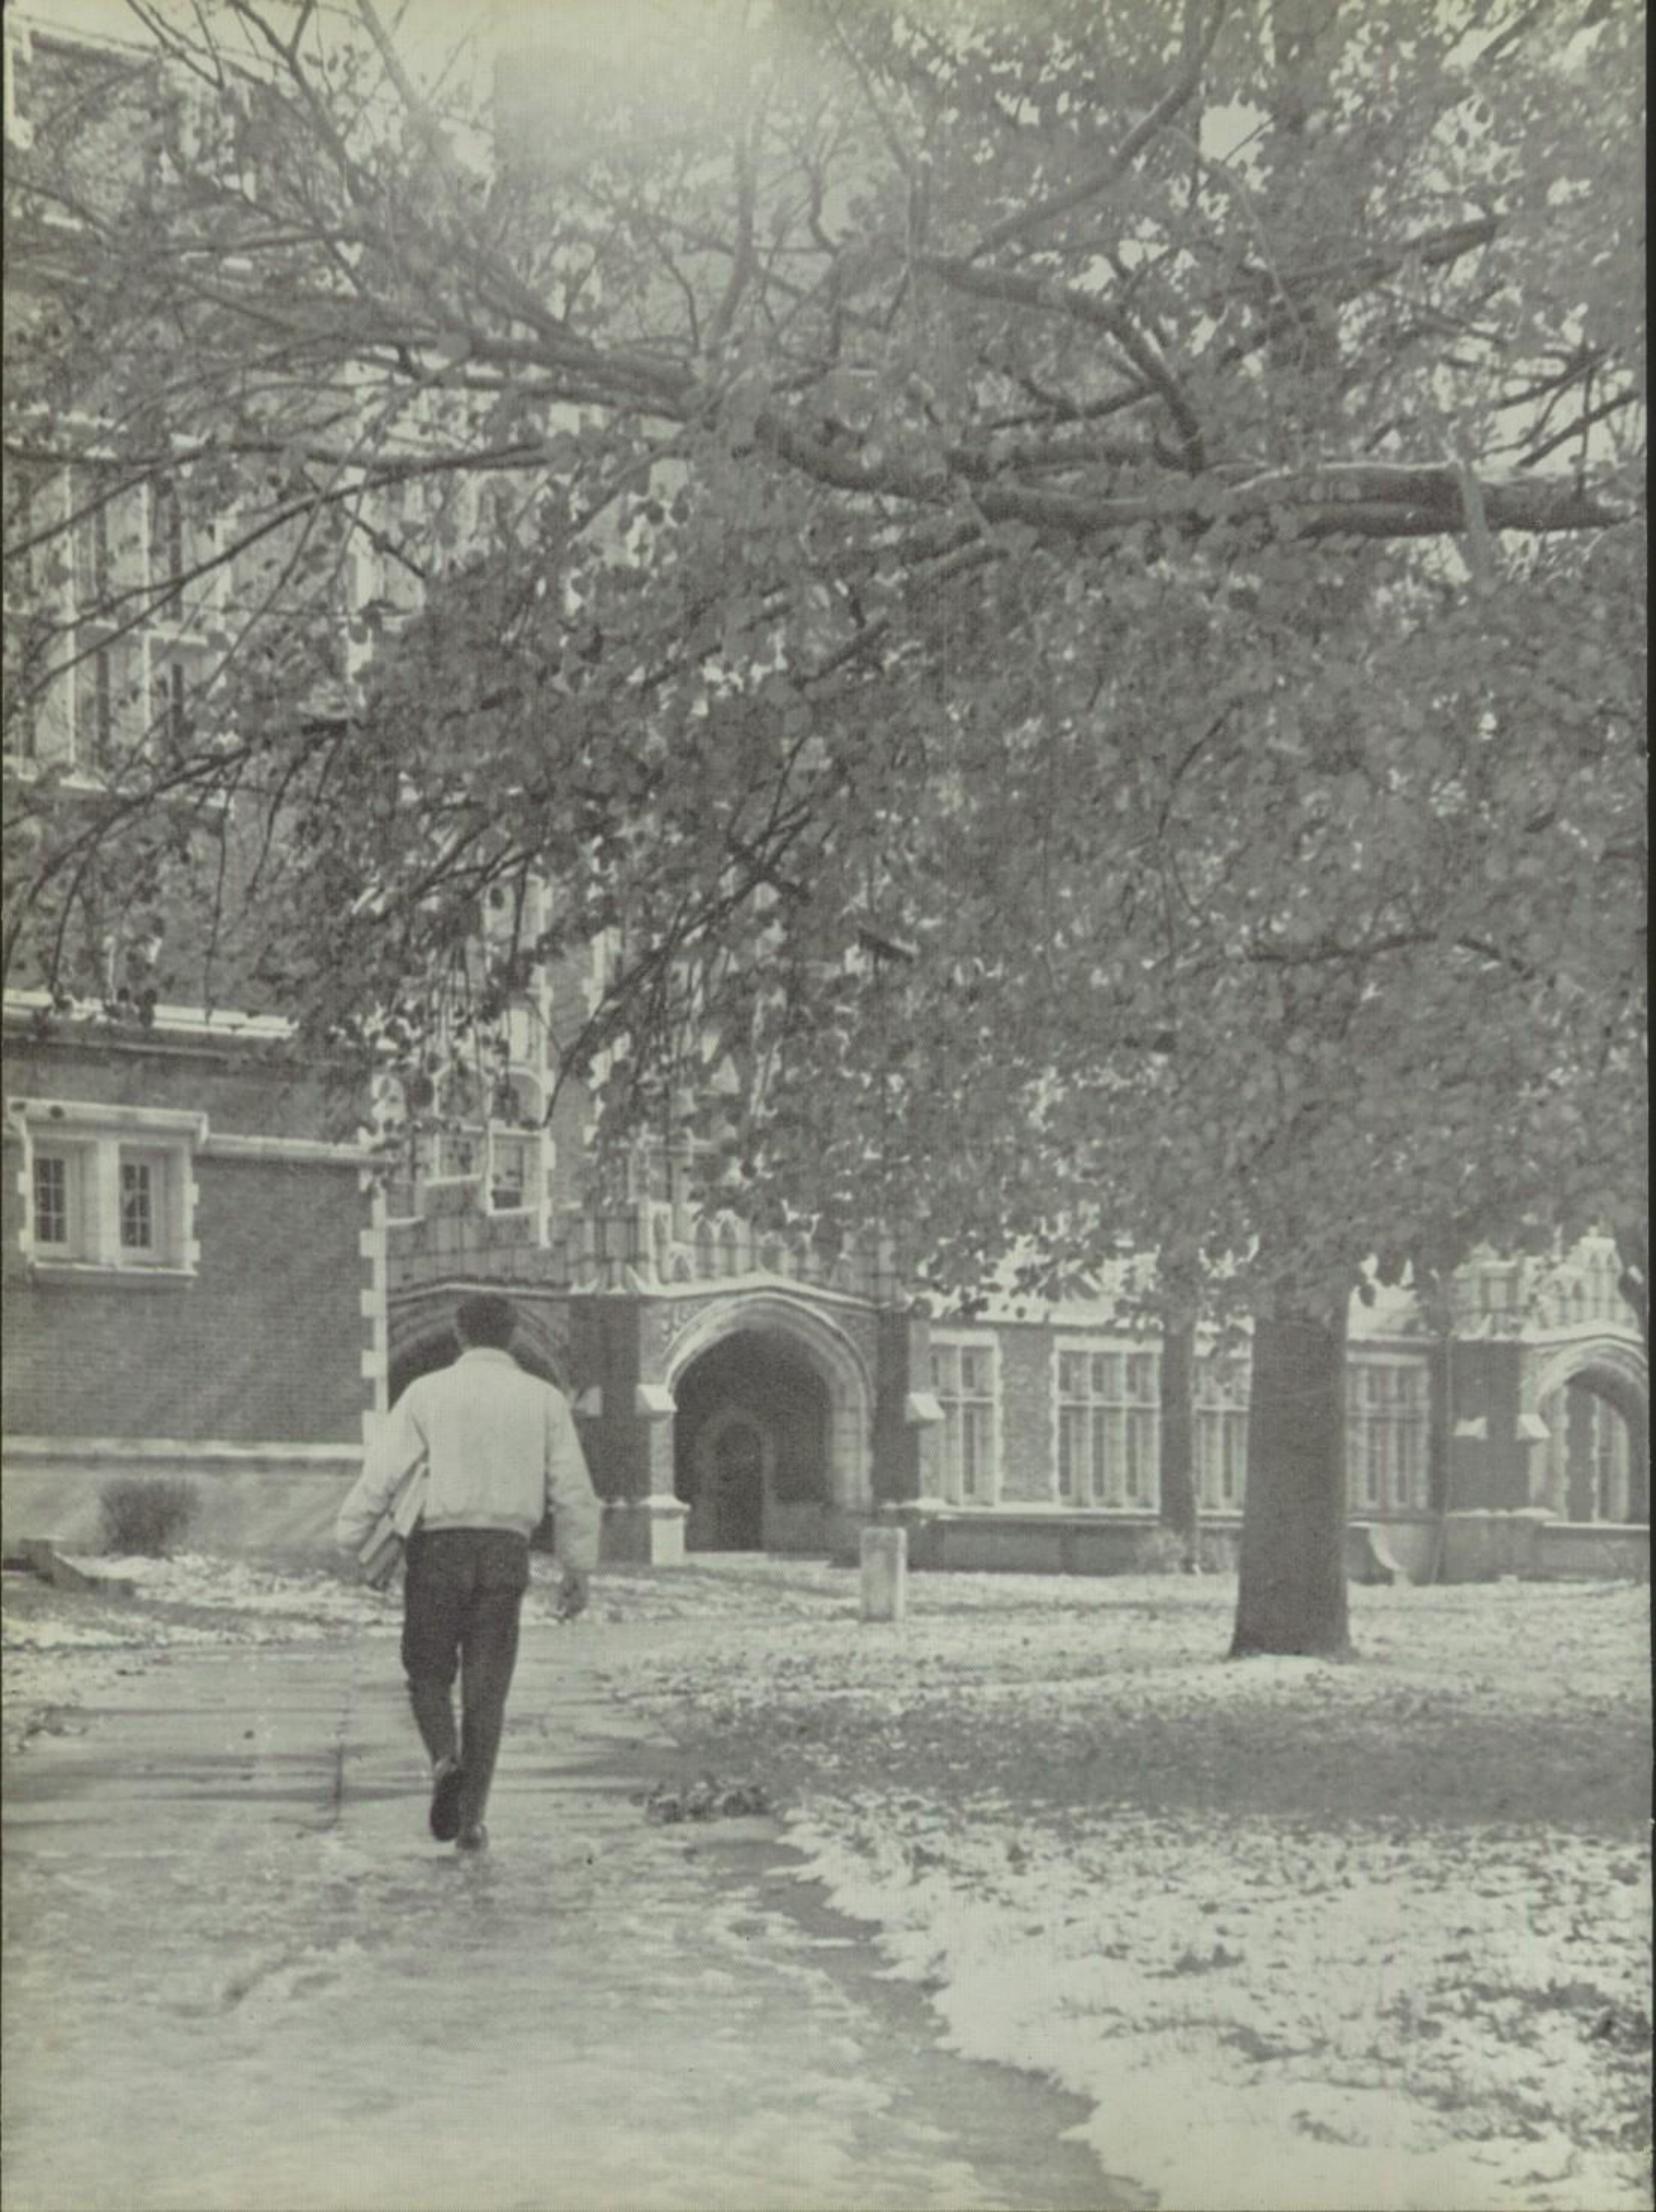
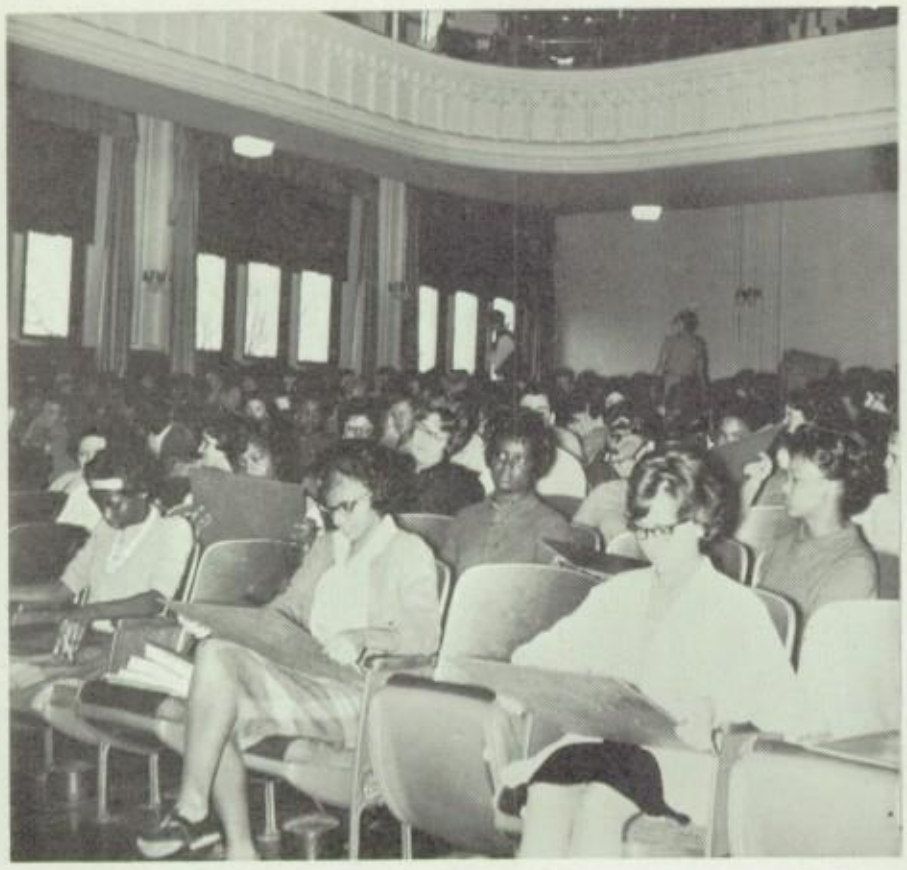
Mr. Lake enjoys some refreshment at Scott open house.

Mr. Lake assists one of his students in the operation of the electric planer.

Mr. Lake's interest in people manifests itself in his friendly greeting to a parent at Scott open house.

Mr. Lake listens as Rose Lyn Zanville delivers her essay during National Education Week.





Scholastic aptitude is measured by achievement tests.

Education Leads to Specific Goals

Obtaining a high school education is one branch of the road of life. Different branches of this path lead Scotters toward specific goals. Some chart a course toward college entrance; others follow the trail that leads toward careers in the military service; still others take the road that leads to jobs after graduation. No matter what road Scotters take, they are traveling a path that leads them to the realization of goals that are important to them.

Our teachers lead us along the road to knowledge.

Scott Spirit Promotes Service

School spirit is the loyalty that leads Scotters along paths of service to their school. These trails gently lure Scotters into opportunities to serve Scott. Some choose the path of giving extra time to help paint signs announcing games, dances, and school programs, to plan extra-curricular events, or to practice as members of Scott's ahtletic teams. Other Scotters take the trail of participating in student government and organizations. Some select the road of helping teachers grade papers, assisting in the office, or distributing and collecting books for the bookroom. Valuable to Scott, also, are those boosters and achievers who tread the way of attending sports events regularly and upholding Scott's good name.

Cheerleaders Bonnie Bell, Annette Smiszek, and Mary Kuhnle lead the Scott Band during a pep rally.

Assembly Commissioner Sue Eppstein directs the program at a football pep assembly.

Scott Leads Students to Friendships

Scotters do not travel their road through Scott alone. Rather do their paths lead them into many and varied friendships. Scotters have friends among their classmates and the students with whom they share club activities. In addition, many Scotters find true friends in their teachers and counselors, who are always willing to help those who seek aid. Those who assist in the office develop friendships with members of the office staff. Other Scotters who join committees, such as the Junior Prom committees, the Senior Class committees, and the Meditation Committee, are led into friendships with other committee members. Wherever Scotters turn, they find themselves led along the road of friendship.

Friendship develops from sharing work of mutual interest.

Principal R. J. Langstaff is our best friend.

Concentration keynotes achievement in art.

To Mickey;

It has been a blast knowing you this year. I'm real sorry you are not coming back this year. Good luck in the future.

Scotters Strive for Achievement

The road that Scotters travel through high school ultimately leads to achievement. All Scotters strive to achieve a high school education; some become officers of their clubs; some become cheerleaders, majorettes, or members of Scott's athletic teams; others become class officers; and still others win honors in scholastic competitions and essay contests. Each branch of the Scott road entices Scotters toward achievement.

The Scott Honor Roll heralds scholastic achievement.

Scott Loyalty

Come and join in songs of praise
To our happy high school days,
For the Scott we love always
Dearest, best of all.

Hail! Our Alma Mater true!
Loyalty in us renew!
All that heart and hands can do,
Dear Old Scott, we pledge to you.

Like the star gleams in the night,
Shine her colors maroon and white;
Keep her honor pure and bright,
Till all time is done.

When through all the years to come,
Far away our steps may roam,
Memory will call us home,
To the Scott we love.

To one of the best senior class Presidents that Scott has ever known. With your personality and, shall we say, expressively booming voice, you will go far in your future years.
Best Wishes,
Blanchard
Brenda "62"

Dear Mickey,

Well, it's all over but the shouting! It has been absolutely wonderful becoming your closest "chocolate" acquaintance. And I sincerely hope we'll never lose touch.

Your friendship is something I value above all the new faces I have made at Scott. You have great potential and talent, Mick, and there should be no end in sight for your success. Because of your personality and because you take people for people and for what they are, because you look inside and find the best you can, you'll never have to doubt coming out on top. You'll never lack friends.

This year has been one I'll never forget. It still would not have been the same if it hadn't been for you. Keep all those ambitions and all your dreams and never let them get away from you. I'll always, ever forget

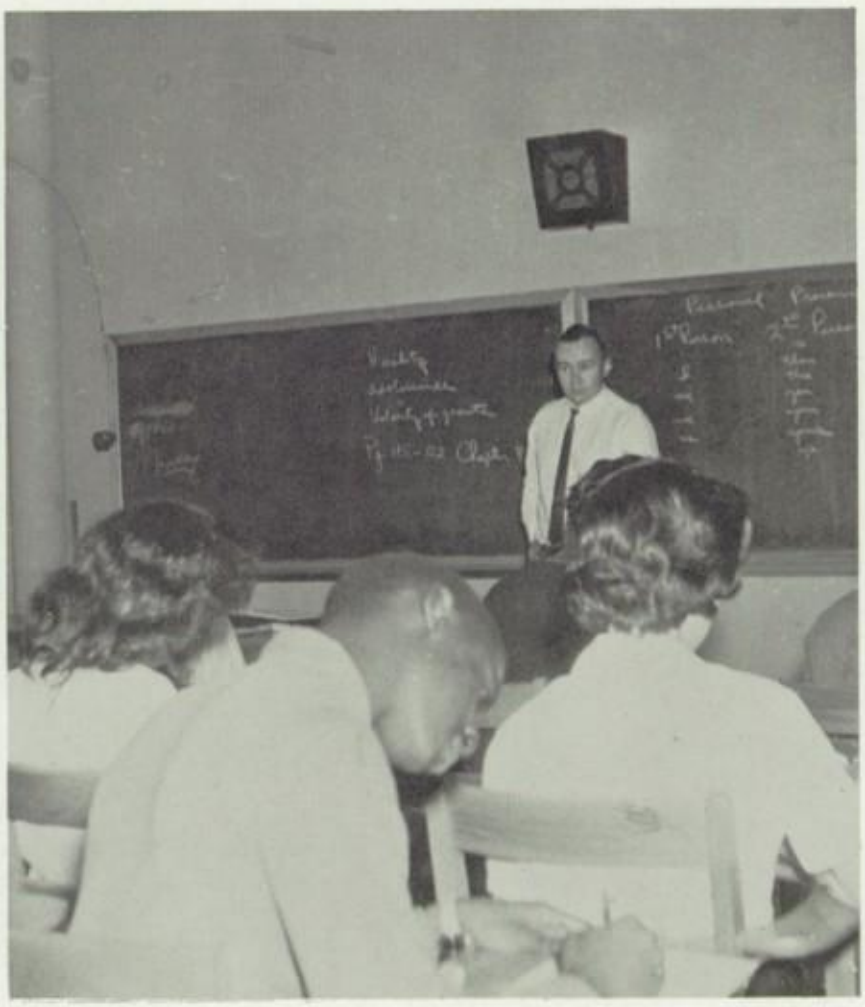
Mr. CLOYCE W. CHENEY

Mr. Cheney came to Scott in September, 1953.
He taught biology and driver education.

Scott teachers gather around Mrs. Stanley Nathanson at a faculty-get-acquainted party as she relates to them an interesting experience which she had as a new Scott teacher.



Students take notes as Mr. Keister explains the case structures of personal pronouns.

Many New Teachers Join Scott Faculty

In September, 1961, Scott High School, resplendent with a freshly redecorated interior and new lockers on the first floor, welcomed students and faculty to the new school year. Scott extended a special welcome to six new teachers: Mrs. Morton Lubin, Mrs. Stanley Nathanson, Miss Ruth Bachelder, Mr. David Keister, Mr. Lynn Koester, and Mr. R. L. Sanzenbacker. They were honored guests at a faculty tea planned by the social commission.

Mrs. Nathanson and Miss Brenneman inspect the bulletin board made of invitations to the faculty tea.

Mrs. Lubin begins to explain a difficult homework assignment to her third-hour algebra students.

PRINCIPAL R. J. LANGSTAFF

Our Leaders Develop Quality in Scotters

Mr. Langstaff offers Barb Hohenberger a piece of the birthday cake presented to him by the Student Representative Assembly.

During his years as principal of Scott, Mr. R. J. Langstaff has enjoyed the respect and admiration of teachers and students alike, and continues to win the respect and admiration of newcomers to Scott. Always happy to respond to anyone who seeks his aid, he takes a genuine interest in each member of the Scott student body. Mr. Langstaff is also an excellent speaker whose well-chosen words inspire Scotters to increased efforts for success in their daily lives. His most important role, however, is that of interpreting to fit Scott's needs the educational program of the Toledo Board of Education, administered by Mr. Philo Dunsmore, superintendent.

Assistant Principals Serve Faculty and Students

The educational program at Scott assumes greatest value to the student when his interests and abilities are guided into a course of study by Principal Langstaff's assistant principals. Scotters enjoy a freedom of choice in planning courses of study, but their separate paths are charted to suit their individual needs. In counseling, Mr. Alberstett and Miss Petersen evaluate for students their measures of aptitude and achievement and help them select subjects that will prove profitable to them. In instruction, Miss Baymiller assigns textbooks, materials, and supervises classroom procedures. Miss Kudzia directs extra-curricular activities which afford Scotters opportunities for leadership and service.

Miss Wilma Kudzia aids parents in finding classes at Scott open house.

Successful Guidance Is Task of Counselors

Mr. Robert Carson, Mrs. Lydia Gilhooley, Mrs. Grace Johnson, Mr. Vernon Alberstett discuss attendance records.

Conducting a counseling program at Scott is the work of Miss Florence Petersen and Mrs. Kathleen Justen for girls, and Mr. Vernon Alberstett and Mr. Robert Carson for boys. Numerous tests to measure basic skills, aptitudes, and scholastic achievements are administered through the counseling department. Results of these tests aid the counselors in advising students with problems concerning academic and vocational choices, activities, personal adjustments, and preparation for college. In addition, the counselors supervise attendance and direct regulations to foster good citizenship. They maintain a level of friendly relationships at which the interests of students, teachers, and parents are directed toward a common goal—the best education for each student.

Mrs. Margaret Husbands supervises school finances.

Mrs. Mildred Evans, Mrs. Marian Masell, Mrs. John Taylor, and Mrs. Howard Brymer direct efficient office routine.

Office Staff, P.T.A. Offer Loyal Support, Service

Three members of the office personnel, the office co-ordinator, Mrs. Marian Masell; Mrs. Mildred Evans; and Mrs. Betty Taylor, worked throughout the summer typing and organizing schedule cards, mimeographing supplies, and conducting book distribution. On the first day of school, Mrs. Margaret Husbands, school treasurer; Mrs. Lydia Gilhooley and Mrs. Grace Johnson, assistants to the counselors; and Mrs. Alice Brymer, assistant to the librarian, returned. Busy were their days throughout the year reporting and recording attendance, preparing and filing grade reports and answering innumerable inquiries quickly and cheerfully.

The Scott Parent-Teacher Association, led by Mr. Denzil Hinr, aided by Mrs. Twyman Traynum, Miss Wilma Kudzia, Mrs. Harry Maza, and Mrs. Leon Frankel, volunteered hours of time to serve Scott. They sponsored many functions for Scotters this year: Scott open house for parents in November, the "Scott Skits" cast party, the bus to Bowling Green for state scholarship test participants, the patron drive for the spring Music Festival, refreshment service at the formal school dances.

Mr. Denzil Hinr observes as Mrs. Hinr prepares to serve punch at the Scott open house.

I shall always remember Mickey as a real boy and a good friend. Best wishes.

Since effective verbal expression is a student's primary means to success in any field, the course of language meets his needs and leads him through the training essential to his development. English classes offered a program in reading, composition, and basic writing techniques to help Scotters become proficient in their own language. The study of literature helped them to build reading backgrounds and to find answers to their questions about people and life. Scotters discovered, however, that their one-world comprehension could not be limited to their native language only. First some chose Latin for its scholastic challenge and basic language development. Then realizing their growing need to understand the languages and customs of their foreign neighbor nations, many studied French and Spanish to learn to write, read, and speak a foreign language.

As the power of mathematics gave man his first advancements in civilization, so the knowledge of number magic lights the trail for the student toward mastery of his world. For Scotters who required mathematics for everyday living, courses in basic and applied math supplied their need. For those seeking higher education, algebra, plane and solid geometry, and trigonometry prepared them for college study.

Numbers alone, however, fail to provide the student the key to mastery of his world today. Knowledge of science, too, plays a major role. To this end, general science, chemistry, and physics inspired the search for knowledge in the physical sciences. Biology and physiology oriented students in biological studies.

The art of creating is divided into two ways of expression which give Scott students a chance to develop and use their creative ability. The Art and Music Departments, on the other hand, develop native abilities in creative arts. By the media of musical instrument and voice some interpret the beauty in music. Others through the media of color, design, and brush create glimpses of beauty they observe in the world around them.

For students preparing for job opportunities as well as those preparing for college, Scott offers an excellent program in business education. Mental fitness is only half of all-round health. The aim of the physical education department is to develop strength and muscular co-ordination. Labor Force Works to Keep New Look Making Scott High function efficiently takes the co-operation of many. Seldom seen but contributing much to the smooth operation of this complex organization are the cafeteria workers, engineers, and custodians. Their work, evident from the fourth floor to the basement, benefits both the student body and faculty.

Never a day goes by when the students fail to find an array of tasty foods prepared by the capable cafeteria workers. Throughout the first, second, third, and fourth floors the custodians work diligently to keep up Scott's "new look." Down in the basement the engineers work to maintain the comfortable temperature of the building. They often arrive early in the morning to be sure that Scotters have a pleasant atmosphere in which to work.

The Road Taken

The class of 1962 traveled a long way on the challenging road toward adulthood. The seniors realized that once they chose any one highway to travel, turning back on a road crowded with many travelers would be difficult. Breaking away from the Scott that had been home port for four years was hard. As they approached the long and rugged road of life ahead, they realized that the people they had known, their activities, and the decisions they had made at Scott would keep life for them forever wonderful.

Students Gerry Schall, Sarah Ullman, Suzanne Hinr, and Fred Reynolds attend to Mr. Lou Harris' questions on "Under 21," a W. S. P. D. television program.

Then Beauty and Brawn Saluted Scott's Fame

Anticipation rose as a hush settled over the students gathered at the State Theater for the annual Thanksgiving Day assembly. The music began, and the spotlight traced the footsteps of the Thanksgiving Day queen, Connie Nutt; attendants, Claudia Miller and Sue Dolbee; and court, Effie Slaughter, Frances Cranon, Kathlynne Duffy, and Barbara Hohenberger. After the coronation of the queen, the Scott Symphonic Choir sang "I Will Praise Thee. O Lord" and "Come, Ye Thankful People, Come" in her honor.

Although Thanksgiving morning was dismal with rain, the gracious queen, her attendants, and her court brightened the atmosphere for the spectators at the game. That night soft lights and romantic music contributed an aftermath of beauty to a trying day as Queen Connie Nutt completed her reign at the Varsity Drag held in the Scott Field House.

The queen, her attendants and court, danced to a song dedicated in their honor.

Despite the rain at the Thanksgiving Day game, the lovely queen, Connie Nutt, and her attendants, Sue Dolbee and Claudia Miller, sit majestically on the beautiful float built for them by the Senior Class.

This team has won our admiration and appreciation.

—Connie Nutt

Improvement Creates Goal for Juniors

All-round improvement was the goal of the 1962 juniors as they directed their activities both scholastically and socially. The large increase of students qualifying for the honor roll marked their scholastic achievement. The juniors' zeal combined with arduous work made such class undertakings as the Junior Prom, election campaigns, and their class picnic successful projects. The Junior Class, under the helpful guidance of Miss Nancy Young and class officers Ray Jackson, Caleara DeCembly, Elaine Fedlock, and Sandra Hill completed a prosperous year and gained the necessary experience for a successful senior year.

Elaine Fedlock, Terrie McGee, and Ray Jackson seek Miss Young's advice on a class project.

Rev. Waldemar Argow discusses with Mr. McCollum, Judy Ullman, and Bruce Trumm the ideas of his speech for the United Nations Assembly.

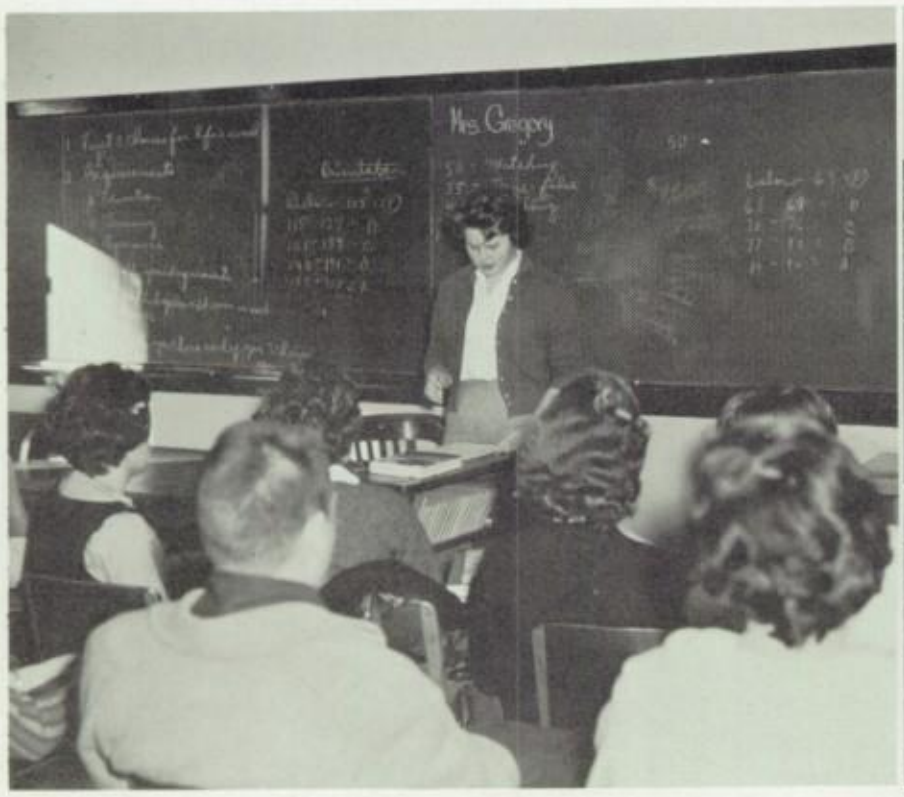
Sophomores Seek Unity Through Class Activities

"Turn your frown upside down!" was the slogan of Smile Week, sponsored by the Sophomore Class during the week of exams. Smile Week was just one of the various activities in which the spirited sophomores participated. The Sophomore Walk, bake sales, and a song fest were successfully carried out under the direction of the industrious class officers, Dawn McConnell, Penny Maza, Jeannie Malloy, and Holly Zanville, and their advisers, Mrs. Penna Miller and Mr. James Richardson. These activities not only provided enjoyment but also enabled the sophomores to accept the challenges of upperclassmen with confidence.

Dawn McConnell reviews the details of the old business discussed at the preceding Sophomore Class Council meeting.



Mrs. Penna Miller gives an approving eye as Dawn McConnell suggests a new class activity to the Sophomore Council.

Freshmen Advance on Higher Road to Education

Upon entering Scott, freshmen took a big step on the road to higher education and wove themselves into the pattern of high school life. They displayed their desire and enthusiasm to become a part of Scott by their academic achievement which was marked by the many high scores in the freshman testing program and by their participation in such extracurricular activities as the club program, athletic games, pep rallies, and sock hops. Advisers Mrs. Alice Snow and Mr. Frank Nagy guided the Freshman Class, led by its council and council president Madilene Golliday, through their first year at Scott.

Madilene Golliday, president of the Freshman Class Council, discusses plans for the year with class advisers, Mrs. Alice Snow and Mr. Frank Nagy.

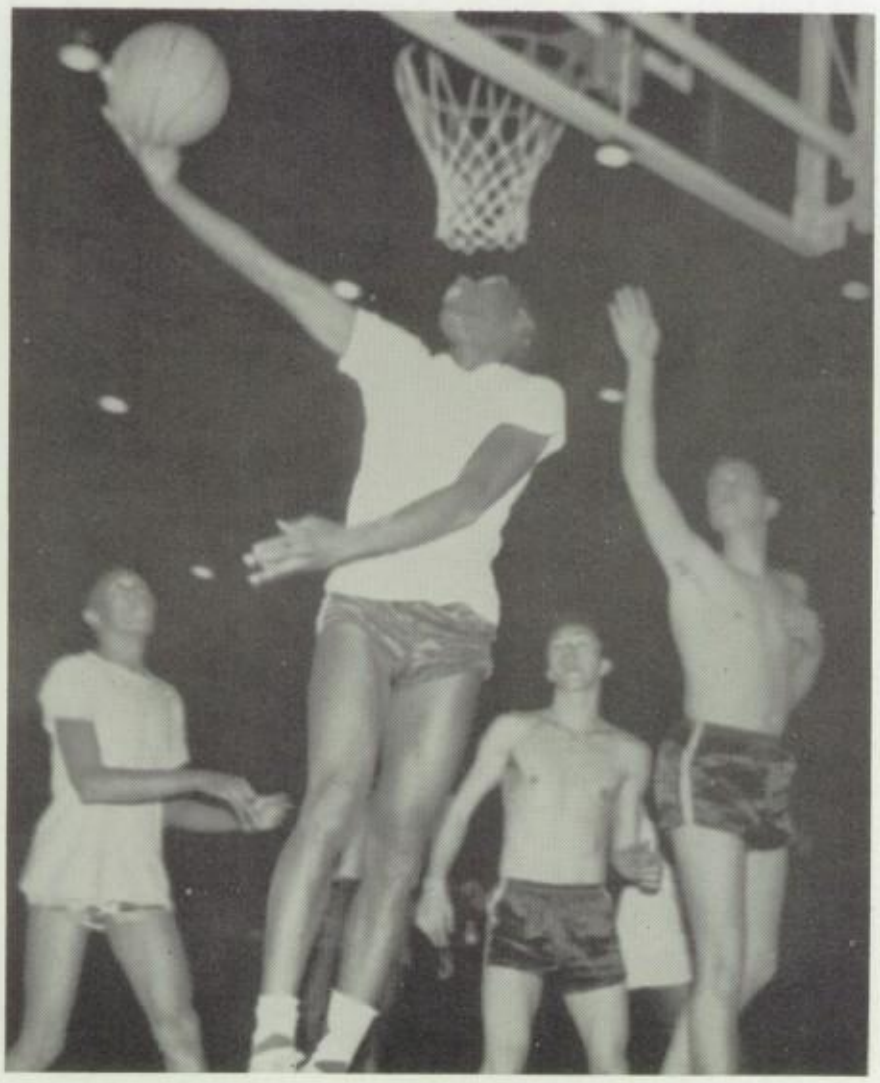
Intramural Basketball, a Premiere

Silas Tarver puts in a lay-up against Mike Slane and Bob Turvey of the Projectionists.



The newly formed intramural basketball league included boys from several curricular and extra-curricular activities. The teams which participated were the Varsity-S Club, Hi-Y Club, Projectionists, Hall Guards, and SCOTTONIAN staff. The Varsity-S Club took first place, compiling a perfect record of 4 wins and no setbacks. The Hi-Y Club, second by losing only one game, was followed by the Projectionists, Hall Guards, and SCOTTONIAN. At the close of the season, a play-off game was held between the two top teams in the league. In this thrilling contest, the Varsity-S team squeaked by the Hi-Y 31 to 30.

Steve Cole, Jerry Hazard, and Jim Kennedy led the league in scoring, followed by Raymond Jackson, Jim Michalak, Henry Jones, and Bob Turvey.

Ernie Jones and Mr. Barrington Nauts, adviser to the Hi-Y Club, were instrumental in the forming of this new league. The games, which were played after school, were refereed by Mr. Robert McCollum and Mr. George Machoukas.

Kneeling beside Mr. Dean are Scott's two superior halfbacks, co-captains Sam Price and Allen Smith, who were rated in the Toledo BLADE as the best one-two punch in the City League.

The 1961 Scott High School football team had an exceptional year, compiling a 7 win and 4 loss record for their head coach Mr. Everett Dean. After tying Libbey in the premiere, Scott opened its season with wins over Findlay and a rugged Cleveland Glenville team. Scott lost a much disputed game to the DeVilbiss Tigers, but bounced back with an impressive victory over Marion Harding. The following week they were defeated by Central Catholic. As the season progressed, the team well displayed their steady improvement by soundly trouncing Libbey, the same team which they had tied in the premiere. In the following contests, the boys overran Woodward and Lorain but lost a squeaker to Macomber, rated ninth in the state. In the final two games of the season, Scott beat Fremont but met defeat at the hands of the Waite Indians Thanksgiving Day.

The team gathers around Coach Dean for last minute instructions before the Libbey game.

After a short gain, Macomber's Jim Evans is forced out of bounds by Howard Barnett.

Coach Dean was pleased with the excellent showing his boys made. Sam Price, unanimous choice for All-City halfback, extended his football fame throughout Ohio when he was named to the second team in the All-State selections.

Nick Nicolaidis, William Crayon, Dave King, and Ernie Gross also made All-City first team. Allen Smith, Curtis Hill, and Howard Barnett were selected for the second team.

Muddy Turf Mars Season's Finale

Scott defenders Steve Cole and Robert Johnson ground Waite halfback Ray Logan.

The Bulldogs' chances for a Turkey Day victory over their arch rival, the Waite Indians, ended in a muddy failure as the home team squeaked by Scott 12 to 6. All morning the sloppy ground hampered Scott's strong offensive unit. Waite scored once in each half on touchdowns run by their halfback Ray Logan. The Bulldogs' touchdown came early in the second half on a long jaunt by Allen Smith.

All through the game bad breaks slowed Scott down. Steve Cole intercepted a Waite pass and ran forty yards for a touchdown, but a penalty nullified the six points. As the first half ended, Allen Smith smashed to the one inch line, but failed to score.

Early in the second half, Allen Smith dashed over the goal line for Scott's lone touchdown of the game which knotted the score at six all. Waite came back late in the game, however, with another touchdown which canceled all hope for victory.

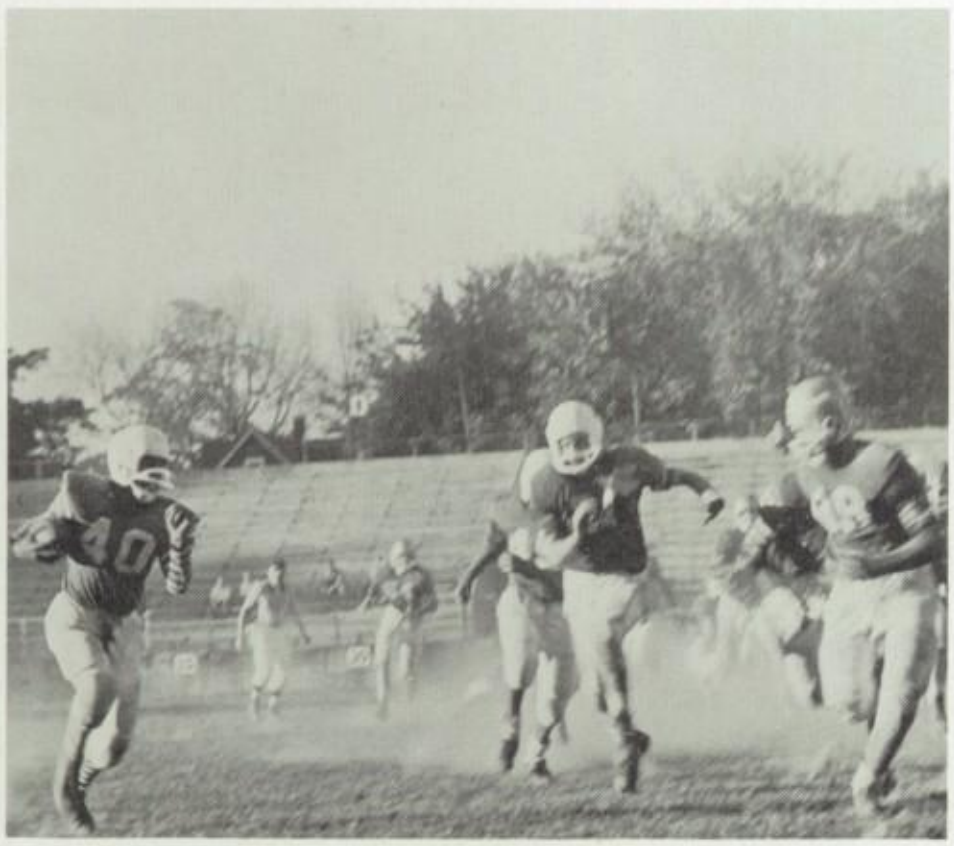
Halfback Larry Smith runs into opposition from a DeVilbiss defender.



At the opening of the 1961 season, the Scott lightweights, led by Mr. John Patroulis, showed signs of becoming a strong contender for the league lead. Though they were hampered by inexperience and lack of depth, the team succeeded in defeating Central Catholic in a close contest. Later in the season, Scott tied the league champion, Waite Indians, in a hard-fought battle. One of the two touchdowns scored by Scott in this game came on a Waite pass which was intercepted by halfback James Randolph, who ran seventy-five yards for the six points. Other solid men in the backfield were Dennis Belcher and Larry Smith. Strengthening the line were Darryl Lycourt, Ronnie Roberts, and a freshman, Lynn Gray. The squad concluded its season with a 1 win, 2 tied, and 4 loss record.

Cheerleaders Generate Enthusiasm

Scott's cheerleaders are made welcome at DeVilbiss by the DeVilbiss Tigerettes and cheerleaders.

The varsity cheerleaders of Scott High School enthusiastically supported all sports events throughout the football and basketball seasons. In good weather or bad, the girls gave their "Scott Rah" and their "Scott Locomotive" with equal zest. The cheerleaders, under the direction of their captain Mary Kuhnle, led the students at pep assemblies both before school and in school assembly periods.

Our 1962 lightweight cheerleaders diligently supported all activities concerning lightweight and freshman football and basketball games. Though the lightweight and freshman games were not so regularly attended as the varsity games, the girls faithfully cheered the junior teams on to victory.

Harriers Outdistanced

The cross-country team of 1961, directed by Scott's new teacher and coach, Mr. Lynn Koester, fared poorly in the City League. However, the no win and 5 loss record gave no indication of the team's desire for and interest in the sport. The fact that most of the runners were first-year men hampered the team considerably. The rebuilding season brought forth many good players, among whom were Dave Hoover, Charles Greenwade, and Rogers McGee.

Theron Pride breaks up a pass between Central's Billy Joe Smith and All-City Mike Bend.

The 1961-62 Scott High School basketball varsity succeeded in finishing with a total season's record of 6 wins and 12 defeats. As this was a rebuilding year for both the team and its coaching staff, the rather unimpressive record failed to show what the team gained through extensive practice and valuable experience.

After opening the season with four straight losses at the hands of Defiance, Libbey, Waite, and Central, the cagers won two of their following three games, on three successive nights. The day after Christmas, they journeyed to Napoleon for the first game of the Christmas Tournament and soundly trounced Swanton. The next night the team returned to defeat Woodward at home, but lost to Napoleon the following night, thus winding up in second place in the tournament. The succeeding week the boys lost a close contest to DeVilbiss on the opponents' floor and later fell before a determined Macomber team. After that game Scott extended a winning streak of four straight games over Sylvania, Libbey, Waite, and a well-disciplined St. Francis squad. The next week the boys gave highly-rated Central a battle, compiling the second highest number of points scored against Central's tough defense in the season to that game. The varsity closed the season by dropping consecutive games to Woodward, De-Vilbiss, and Macomber.

Celester Barnes, one of the city's top rebounders, was named to the first team All-City squad; Jasper Wiggins, Scott's all-round player, was named to the second team.

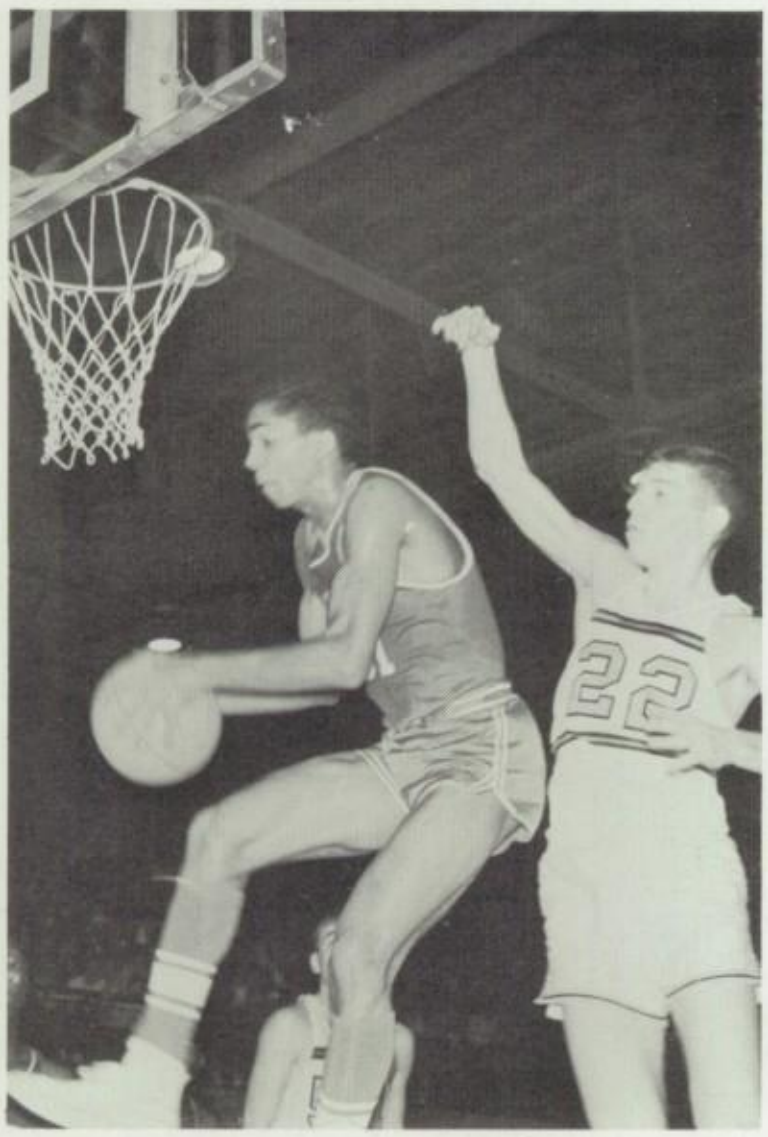
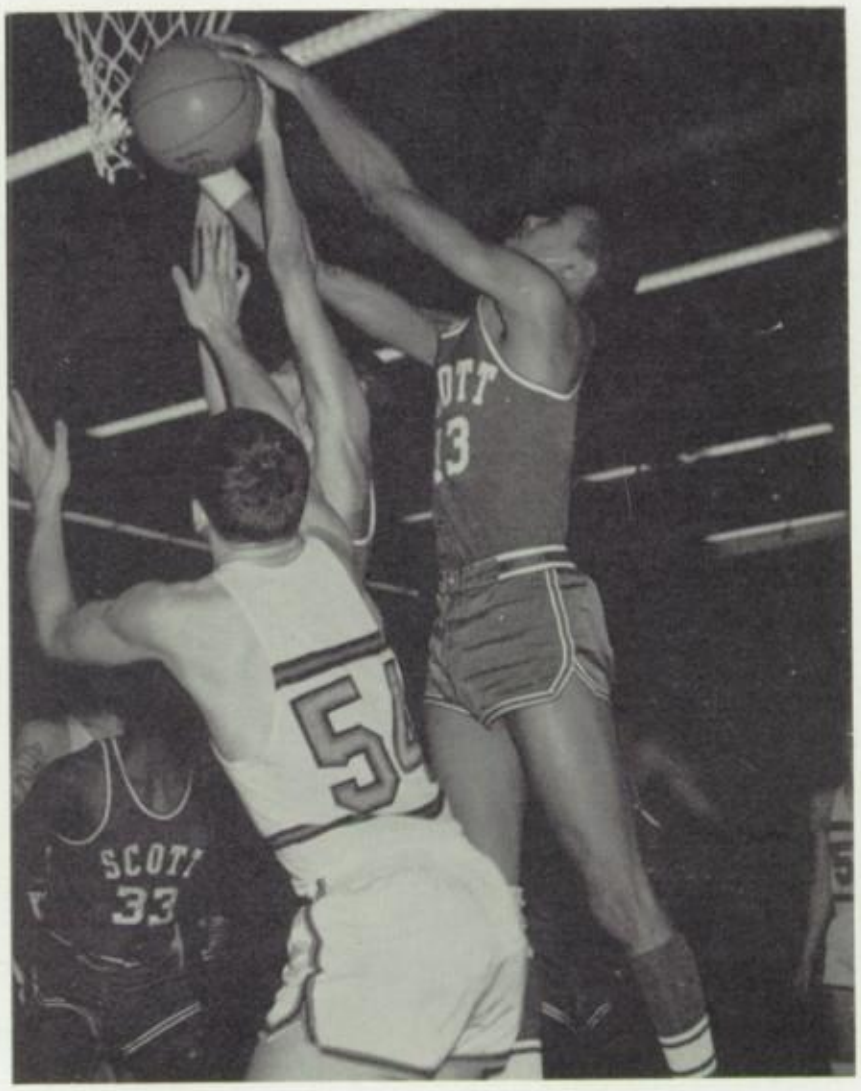
As Celester Barnes grabs a rebound, he is fouled by DeVilbiss's John Ayling.



Gus Nicolaidis breaks through Libbey's defense to score.

The Scott High School Bulldogs, by concluding the 1961-62 season in the Whitmer field house with a 71 to 53 loss to DeVilbiss, ended Scott's chances for advancement in the Sectional Tournament. The Bulldogs kept pace with the Tigers during the first half. After intermission, however, DeVilbiss's John Ayling and Terry Harmon broke the game wide open, finishing with a total of 51 points between them. Celester Barnes, George Newton, and Gus Nicolaidis led Scott in scoring. Celester also did an excellent job on the boards. Al Taylor and All-City selections Celester Barnes and Jasper Wiggins, who were seniors, played their last high school basketball game together.



Dick Jackson blocks a lay-up attempted by DeVilbiss's Jim Detwiler.

The 1961-62 Scott lightweight basketball team, guided by the fine coaching of Mr. Lynn Koester, battled its way to a strong third place finish in the City League. Though their offense lagged, the reserves' vigorous defense, combined with aggressive rebounding, made possible their 12 win and 4 loss record. Bill Thomas and Oscar Ellis, who were moved up to varsity at the end of the season, and Bob Osby, Dennis Belcher, and Tyrone Wooley were largely responsible for the success of the team.

The Scott High Bulldog pups finished the 1961-62 basketball season in second place, losing only three extremely close games by one, two, and three points respectively. Their fine offense, polished to near perfection by the team's clever coach, Mr. Richard Knisely, made the freshman squad one of the best competitors in the freshman league. Though the defense had its weak points, the high scoring of Robert Wiggins and Edward Dailey enabled Scott to compile a 10 win and 3 loss record.

Trackmen Exhibit Impressive Record

The 1961 Scott track team, under the leadership of Mr. Orton Ryan, finished a successful season with a 5 win and 1 loss record.

In the relays at DeVilbiss, the trackmen demonstrated their superiority by winning a second place trophy. Scott was most adept in the broad jump and mile relay.

Later in the season, ten of the Scott trackmen traveled to Columbus for the state meet. There Allen Smith placed first in the broad jump and competed in the 100-yard dash. The mile relay team, consisting of John Simmons, Herbert Goodloe, Robert Johnson, and Ronnie Moss, turned in a fine performance. The speed relay team, composed of Frankie Clemons, Sam Price, Richard Suttler, and Richard Jones, did an exceptional job, too. Frankie Clemons also ran in the 220-yard dash, placing sixth in the state.

Golfers Experience Unsuccessful Season

The 1961 golf squad, under the direction of Mr. Glen Lake, tallied a 1 win and 5 loss record, because most of the nine boys who came out for the team lacked adequate skill. Although the team had an unsuccessful season, they gained valuable experience in golf technique and sportsmanship.

Matmen Record Two Victories

The wrestling team of 1962 met stiff opposition during the season. Coached by Mr. Merle Baker, the squad finished with a 2 win and 7 loss record. In the tournament Charles McCullough placed fourth in the district; John McGee and Bill Crayon placed second; and Richard Crayon won the district championship, thereby making him the first boy from Scott ever to participate in the state tournament. Tennis Team Fails to Reach Its Goal

Mr. John Poth's 1961 tennis team failed in its attempt to place high in the City League. Since most of the players were underclassmen, they lacked sufficient experience to win their matches. However, the boys displayed an earnest desire to achieve success. The squad compiled a 0 win and a 5 loss record.

Baseball Team Lacks Unity

The 1961 baseball squad, guided by Mr. George Machoukas, opened its season by soundly trouncing Rossford on Rossford's home field. Although the team possessed sufficient ability for a winning season, they seemed to lack the desire to win. The boys finished the year with a 2 win and 14 loss record.

Honor Society Creates Interest in Scholarship

Members of the Scott Chapter of the National Honor Society stimulated an interest in scholastic achievement by competing with members of other chapters in the city. Scott members met Woodward High School members on two occasions to test their knowledge in a quiz bowl. The Scott chapter also helped to promote high scholastic standards in their school by posting an honor roll in the hallway as a constant reminder to students of the importance of maintaining good grades. In April new members from the upper classes were inducted at an impressive ceremony.

Meditations Inspire Thought

During the first semester the Meditation Committee continued the practice begun nine years ago of delivering a brief inspirational message by the public address system. Teachers and students alike appreciated the thought-provoking little essays read at the beginning of each school day. At the beginning of the second semester, however, the Meditation Committee members suspended these daily meditations temporarily and concentrated their effort to improve writing techniques and to practice by means of tape-recordings to achieve better delivery. These study meetings were held weekly.

J. C. W. A. Discusses World Affairs

A Notre Dame student speaks at an area Junior Council on World Affairs meeting.

The Junior Council on World Affairs endeavored to create an interest in international affairs for its members. Among their activities were the area meeting at Scott in November, several club debates, including a discussion on the topic "Does the government have the right to control our power companies?", and a quiz bowl which was held in March for all the area schools. The highlight of the year was the annual Area Junior Council on World Affairs institute at the University of Toledo.

The French Club, which was composed of second-year French students, conducted their semi-monthly meetings solely in French. Members gained a greater command of the French language through participation in various games, designed to increase the players' French vocabulary. A leisurely trip to France by means of Miss Butler's extensive collection of slides was the highlight of the year.

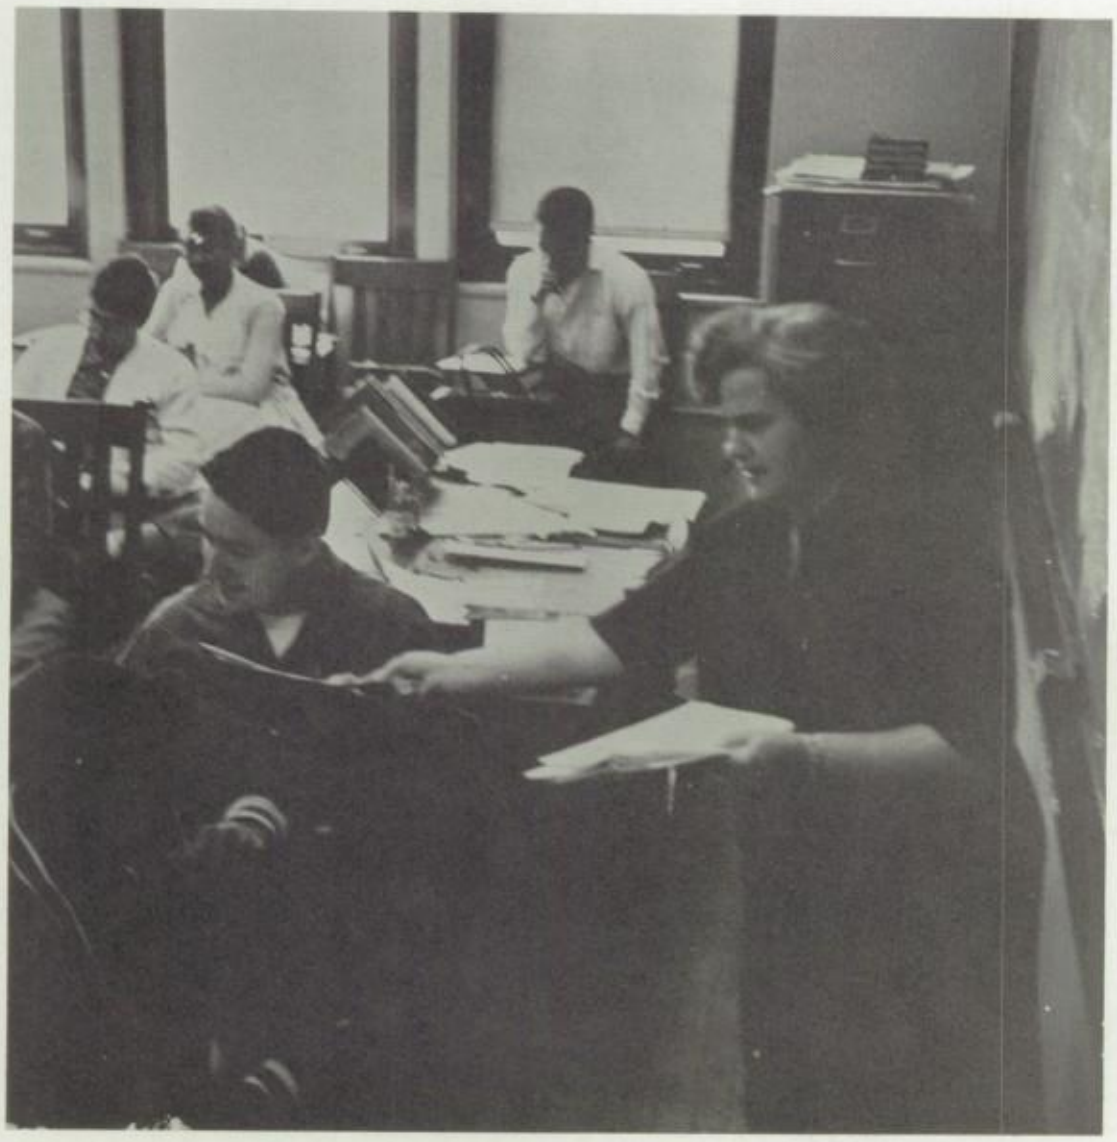
Latin Club Joins Junior Classical League

Mrs. Austin distributes material for Latin study.



The Scott Latin Club organized to expand members' knowledge in the Latin language. For Christmas members made Latin greetings for the faculty. After renewing their charter in the Junior Classical League, members of the club were initiated in March by Clay High chapter members. Further activities included League meetings and making projects for the area Classicists Association Expositio.

The Spanish Club gave members an opportunity to practice their skills in speaking the Spanish language at informal and entertaining meetings. Though it was primarily an educational club, the task of learning became enjoyable as members played charades and bingo in Spanish. During the meetings, held twice a month, the colorful customs of the Spanish-speaking people became a part of the classroom atmosphere.

Future Teachers Observe Teaching Procedures

The Future Teachers of America served Scott in many ways during the school year. At Scott's annual open house they acted as usherettes for the visiting parents. At one meeting a former club president spoke on education for teaching. In the spring Mr. Herbert Hofmann, adviser, helped them plan their annual tea for the teachers at which they presented a skit depicting classroom antics.

Future Nurses Examine Nursing Profession

The Future Nurses' Club sought to inform members about the nursing career. To fulfill this aim the future nurses invited guest speakers from the nursing profession to increase their understanding of this fascinating vocation. To experience the atmosphere in which they will work, the members visited Toledo hospitals. In January and February they helped a local orphanage by making and selling aprons.

Business Club Practices Office Techniques

Miss Petersen lectures to the Business Club about opportunities in the business world.

By inviting business representatives to address its members the Business Club guided the career girls to prepare for secretarial positions after graduation. At one January meeting Miss Florence Petersen led the club in an informal question-answer discussion on the various job opportunities in the business world. As a Christmas favor for the faculty members, the club compiled a list of the teachers' names, addresses, and telephone numbers, and constructed an address book for each teacher.

The purpose of the 1962 Scott High School Chess Club was to provide both fundamental instructions to beginning players and advanced study for players experienced in the game. Every Tuesday afternoon they conducted meetings, and every Wednesday afternoon they met for matches. The top six members of the Chess Club were chosen by continuous ladder tournaments to become the Scott chess team. Throughout the year the Scott team maintained a high-ranking record in the Morphy League.

Hi-Y Guides Personal Achievement

The Young Men's Christian Association building was the scene of the weekly Monday evening meetings of the Scott Hi-Y Club. A highlight of the year was the appearance of Tom Loomis, Toledo BLADE sports writer, to discuss his job experiences. Other projects were basketball leagues, canoe trips in Michigan, and co-ed meetings on dating. Summer plans included a canoe trip into northern Canada and a sixteen-member delegation to a week-long training program at Denison University. In February members formed the Gavel Club, a teenage branch of the Seaway Toastmasters.

Freshman Y-Teens Fulfill Purpose

Y-Teen president Pat Lewis makes plans for meetings with other officers.

The Y-Teen's purpose, Fellowship, Brotherhood, and the Love of God, was a guide in directing the activities of the Freshman Y-Teens. A splash party and pot luck which the girls held at the Y.W.C.A. illustrated the first of these, Fellowship. To promote brotherhood they showed a film during February, Brotherhood month, condemning the evils of prejudice. At Christmas time, Love of God, the third purpose, they displayed as they went caroling at different rest homes in the Scott district.

Early in the year the Sophomore Y-Teens cleaned the trophy case, a custom for this sophomore group. At Christmas time they presented a special candle-light ceremony for the Scott faculty, a customary tradition for Y-Teens members throughout the world. They also helped to spread the Christmas spirit by going caroling as a group. To raise funds for financing their many activities Sophomore Y-Teens sponsored a bake sale and sold chewing gum to classmates and spectators at basketball games.

Junior Y-Teens Lead in School Life

The Junior Y-Teens sold white mums, decorated with maroon ribbons, for the Thanksgiving Day game; a bake sale also raised funds for their projects. Among these was a tea given for the faculty members in November. This event was held in the home economics room where Mrs. Penna Miller, a Scott teacher, used slides to illustrate her talk on her trip to Europe in the summer of 1961.

The Senior Y-Teens were hostesses to all football players' mothers at the annual Thanksgiving tea given in their honor; at the assembly Brenda Blanchard introduced the mothers. This group also sold megaphones and sponsored a cheering section during the football season. The highpoint of their activities was the nomination of Shanna Gross for candidate to the area Y-Teen formal dance.

High School Red Cross Serves Community Projects

Richard Egner and Judy Mitchell make plans for the Red Cross gift-box drive.

The High School Red Cross of Scott High School participated in many service activities throughout the year. In the fall during S.C.O.T.T., the group conducted a school-wide enrollment drive; in the winter members made cross-word puzzles for one of the rest homes in the area; and in the spring, they filled gift-boxes for the needy children overseas. Then in May the group were hosts at a party held for the Toledo Society for the Blind. All the activities were inspiring and impressive.

The Varsity-S Club, one of Scott's most active groups, is composed of boys who have won a letter in one varsity sport or more. During the football season these lettermen provided milk for the football players after all home games; during the football and basketball seasons the club awarded the greatly-coveted "Sloppy Joe" trophies to outstanding players. To earn money for their projects they held two bake sales and sponsored a hop at the Y.M.C.A.

Projectionists Aid Visual Education

Louis Costell prepares to show the movie "Pride and Prejudice" to Miss Fields' fourth hour English class.

If you ever arrived at school early in the morning, you may have noticed a group of boys checking and setting up movie equipment to be used in numerous classrooms during the day. These boys were the projectionists. Under the supervision of Mr. C. R. Croll the projectionists were responsible for preparing and running the movie projectors to assist classroom teachers in visual education. Although they received little recognition for their tasks, the boys were always ready and willing to help.

The Scott orchestra provides an opportunity for musical expression by students who appreciate good music and enjoy playing musical instruments. The student body also benefits from this organization through the musical classics performed by the orchestra at assemblies. For one program early in the second semester Janet Browning and Alan Brundage performed a violin duet that created a mood to help the audience relax, evaluate their past achievements, set new goals, and grow to get the most out of the assembly theme "To Grow." In addition the orchestra contributed moments of musical enjoyment at the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter assemblies. These musicians highlighted their successful year by participation in the annual Spring Music Festival.

Scott Choir Adds Harmony to Assemblies

Mr. Gerber leads the choir in singing the cantata at the Christmas assembly.

The Scott Symphonic Choir, under the direction of Mr. Myron Gerber, lived up to the excellent reputation it has built among Scott students and in the community. A superb performance at the Christmas assembly aroused for both students and faculty a holiday mood. The choir entertained Senior Citizens of Toledo at the Jewish Community Center and also proved their vocal excellence in the All-City Choir Festival held in the Toledo Museum of Art Peristyle. Scott can be very proud of their showing at the Northwestern Ohio District Solo and Ensemble contest where choir members were in competition with students from all of northwestern Ohio and returned with high ratings. The Symphonic Choir completed the year by singing in the Spring Music Festival held annually in the first week of May, National Music Week.

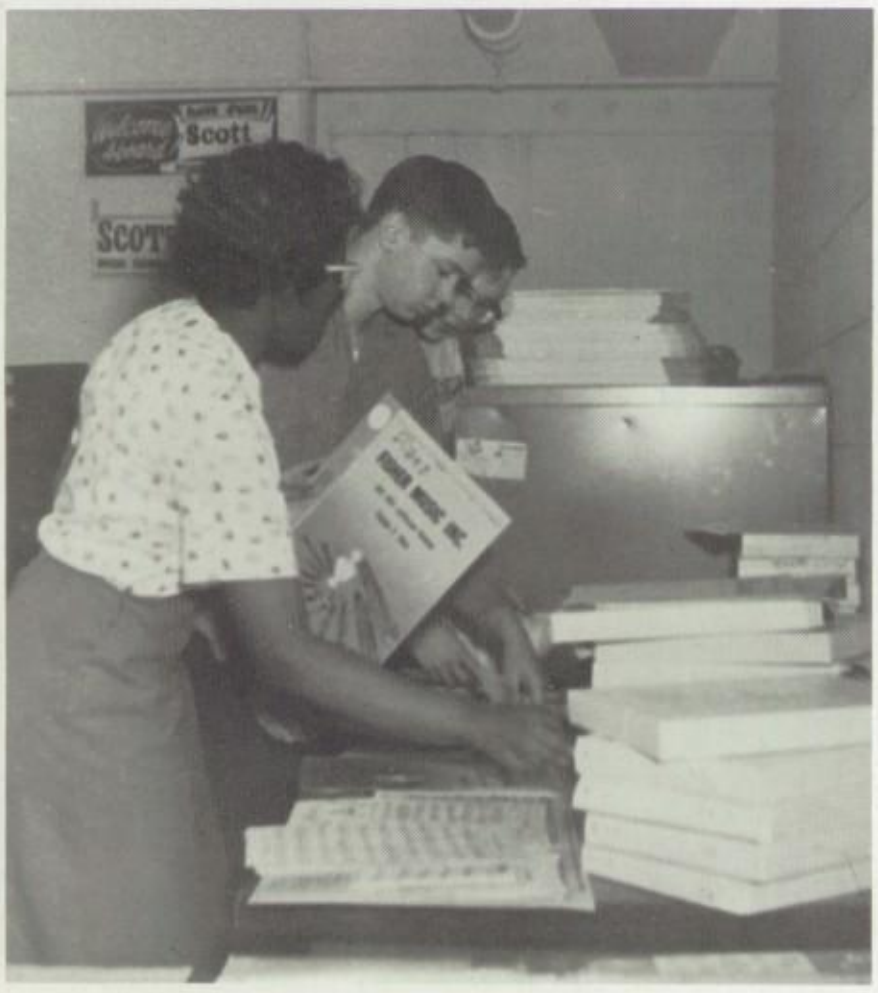
Scott Band Adds Spark to Pep Rallies

Harriet Franklin, John Burgess, and Arthur Hill file music arrangements for band members.



The precision marching of the Scott High band added spirit and color to the half-time activities during the football season. They sparked and roused Scotters' enthusiasm at the pep assemblies. Just before Christmas the band members increased their treasury by selling candy. These funds they used to complete payment of their new parkas. Finally in May their hours of practice, under Mr. Robert Klein's efficient guidance, produced excellent results in their performance in the Spring Music Festival.

Commissions Conduct Student Projects

The Service and Technical Commissions together prepared lights and props for the many school functions. During the year the Assembly Commission planned and produced many excellent educational and entertainment assemblies. It was the duty of the Finance Commission to handle the collection of tax stamps, the selling of saving stamps, and the recording of all club funds. Finally the Social Commission made favors to welcome the teachers in the fall, planned the Varsity Drag, and hosted the Area Student Council meeting at Scott in the spring.

THISTLE Keeps Scotters Informed

The THISTLE, under the leadership of Rose Lyn Zanville, editor, and Mrs. Kathleen Justen, adviser, lived up to its aim of reporting to students news of school activities. Many entertaining feature articles made the paper appealing to the students. Each month an informative four-page issue was presented for sale to eager Scotters. On three occasions increased sales made it possible for the THISTLE staff to publish a six-page paper. As THISTLE members, student writers gained journalistic experience.

SCOTTONIAN Records the Events of the Year

Work began on the 1962 SCOTTONIAN last summer when Editor Suzanne Hinr and Copy Editor Betty Rosebrock attended a week-long yearbook workshop at Ohio University. Under the adviserships of Miss Helen Fields, the book took shape when the staff returned in September. Time passed quickly as members strove to create an original and accurate account of the year's events. After the months of copywriting, photographing, typing, pasting and cataloguing, the staff eagerly reviewed the fruit of their labor before submitting it to the National Scholastic Press Association for evaluation.

Representative Assembly Co-ordinates Activities

The Student Representative Assembly included student government and class officers, and class council representatives. On Monday the commissioners met to survey school activities and problems and then reported their recommendations to the S.R.A. meeting on Tuesday. The representatives then reported to their class units the results of this meeting, answered questions, and discussed new ideas.

Stars Glittered and Eyes Sparkled at the Junior Prom, JANVIER PARTOUT

A blanket of freshly fallen snow combined with the glittering stars which adorned the Scott Field House to create a heavenly atmosphere for the Junior Prom, Janvier Partout. Jack Spratt's band played the strains of familiar melodies that enticed couples to dance beneath a galaxy of sparkling stars. Lights dimmed and a hush fell over the guests as Raymond Jackson, junior class president, announced attractive Glenda Corbitt to be the reigning queen of the Junior Prom. Her lovely attendants Sharon Korngut and Betty Rosebrock graciously extended congratulations to Glenda. Carrying with them souvenirs and fond memories of Janvier Partout, the couples reluctantly departed from the class dance.

1962 SKITS Delights the Classroom Audience

Tryouts for the SCOTT SKITS of 1962 were held in February. After a week of eager anticipation, the names of performers selected were announced. Rehearsals began under the capable, patient direction of Mr. James Eppstein, faculty adviser. Jim Michalak, senior director, started the tasks of taping the music, arranging lighting and sound equipment, and obtaining props. Betty Rosebrock, junior director and choreographer, worked diligently with three chorus lines as well as individual performers to perfect precision dancing acts. Buz Trumm, junior director, led committees to draw up a working budget and plan ticket sales and publicity. The show was presented on April 6 and 7 in Scott Auditorium. From the first strains of "Top Hat, White Tie, and Tails" to the final notes of "We Could Have Danced All Night" the 1962 SCOTT SKITS was a dazzling testimonial to the hours of planning and rehearsing and to the effort put forth by the cast and committees to produce a successful show.

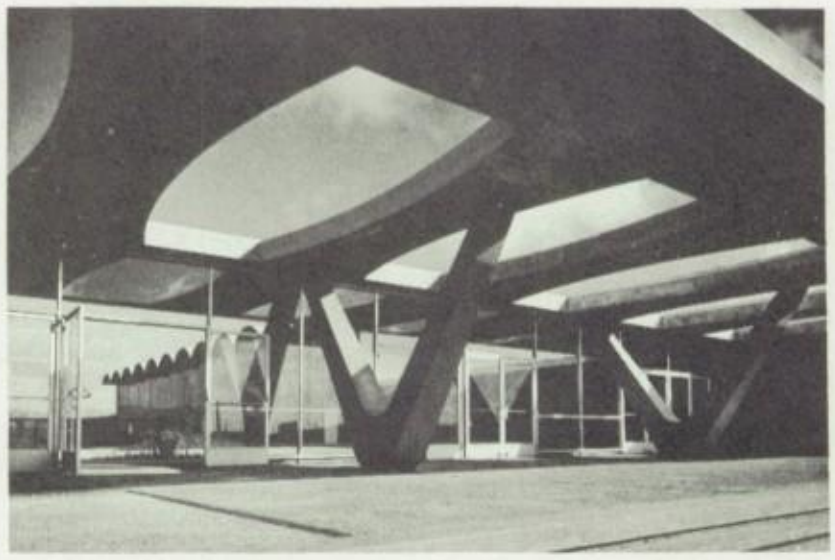
Mr. Donald Woody discusses a classroom problem with a parent of one of his students.

Glass Has Made A Difference



Now is the time to reflect upon the "good ole' days" in school—the many friends, your favorite teachers, sports and dances and parties. But when looking at today's school architecture, we think you'll agree that glass has made a difference!

Here's picture-proof that school corridors don't have to be dark and dreary tunnels. No longer must walls be solid and opaque. Today, more attention is being paid to daylight and view.

When reflecting upon the advantages of this glass age, we think you'll agree that the "good new days" are better.

Memories to Call Us Home

Once again the task of putting together the SCOTTONIAN has become a memory. Yearbook production presents an interesting challenge of hard work, but there was fun in meeting our challenge.

The SCOTTONIAN staff has not worked alone. The visits of Mr. Judson Rinebold of The Gray Printing Company coordinated the work of the staff and the printer. Miss Helen Fields, adviser, aided the staff with her thorough knowledge of yearbook procedures. Mr. Cuthbert Ryan, art adviser, aided in planning the cover design and the art work throughout the book; and Mr. Donald Robb advised the business staff.

Special thanks are due the SCOTTONIAN staff, who waded through piles of layout sheets, copy paper, photographs, and proof sheets to organize story and picture to bring this 1962 SCOTTONIAN to you.

This is your yearbook. It is the record of your year, of your projects, your activities, your achievements, and your progress in high school. We of the SCOTTONIAN staff sincerely hope that this book will serve to keep the memory of your year fresh and alive for many years to come.

Michael,
You're darn tootin' you were business manager.
You're darn tootin' you wrote Book Dawg
You're darn tootin' you made all those Board of Commission meetings -
In fact we're all darn tootin' you did an Awful lot this year! It's been my pleasure working with such a hard-working participant and from this Repo sweetie "Yah-all bad bettah write, honey-pie."
Good Luck, future Uncle Oscar - We know you'll make it, and manage to earn friends and happiness too. You know I think I'm gonna miss you - too much kind of miss your rioting squad opposition from 3rd floor.

Michael
Another four years passed and I will see you at the [illegible] Hope you become [illegible] Black woman president
Peggy

To Mickey,

Well Mick, it has been a very short four years. But I guess time goes by pretty fast when you are with people you like. I'll never forget the time we met playing grade school basketball. The trip to Washington was a real blast where I really got to know you and Richard. I'll never forget the wonderful times we had in band on Freshman year. The pleasant and unpleasant times we had in Freshman basketball will leave an everlasting impression on me. The wonderful times we had in Orientation and all our other classes has made best seem all the more real to me. We had alot of fun in the summertime with going to summer school, playing golf, going to shows, and all the other wonderful things. It has been a real privilege to have known your parents, they are really terrific, especially old "Joe". You are about the swellest guy I know and you certainly deserve the best (Angie). It has been a real honor for me to have had such a wonderful friend as you. If there is ever anything that I can do for you in life, I would consider it a real honor if you come to me. Best of luck always and lots of love.

God bless,

Mike "Vince"

To a real great kid who always kept his sense of humor, I'll always remember as a real swell guy.
Dave Johnson

Mickey,
You're a real swell guy, a real good friend, a great person, all around good guy. I'll never forget you.
Love,

To Mickey
a real sharp guy whom I have really enjoyed knowing. You've done a good job being President of the Jr. class.
Good luck always

Mickey,

To the one that lectures
when I deserves lecturing, cries when I am sad, laughs when I am happy, holds me when I need
holding, kisses me
when I need kissing
To me you are all the riches of the world wrapped up in one great big,
handsome package.
You always will be.
